

2006 EUROPEAN CONFERENCE IN COMPUTER VISION

Candidate Site, Hersonissos, Crete, Greece

Welcome

It is our extreme pleasure to welcome you to this ECCV'06 candidate site.

The European Conference in Computer Vision has been established as one of the best computer vision conferences for the past 15 years. Following its initiation on 1990 in France (1990), it has traveled to central and northern Europe for the past decade: Antibes, France (1990) - Santa Margarita, Italy (1992) - Stockholm, Sweden (1994) - Cambridge, United Kingdom (1996) - Freiburg, Germany (1998) - Dublin, Ireland (2000) - Copenhagen, Denmark (2002) - Prague, Czech Republic (2004).

Main

Important Dates

Venue

People

Submissions

Sponsors

Attractions

For the past twenty years, Greece has been a notable participant in the vision community of EU. The Foundation for Research and Technology was involved to a large number of European Union projects and has produced important scientific output in the domain of computer vision. The support of the Institute of Computer Science, the partnership with the Ecole Nationale des Ponts et Chaussées, one of the leading engineering schools in France and the National Technical University of Athens, and the selection of the majestic island of Crete and the Knossos Village, to hold the venue in the greater area of Knossos and Paistos are elements that could guarantee the success of the event from technical as well as organizational point of view.

On behalf of the organizing committee,

Financial

Getting there

Program

Stelios Orphanoudakis,

Professor, University of Crete,

Director, Foundation of Research and Technology - Hellas

President, European Research Consortium for Informatics and Mathematics

Last Update: April 6th, 2004

you can mail your comments to: nikos.paragios@computer.org